

Sixth Congress of Southeast Asian Librarians (CONSAL VI), Singapore 30hb Mei – 3hb Jun 1983

Lebihkurang 400 orang peserta dan pemerhati dari rantau ASEAN dan beberapa buah negara Barat telah menyertai dalam seminar tersebut yang dikenali sebagai CONSAL VI. CONSAL bersidang tiap-taip tiga tahun di salah sebuah negara ASEAN. Pada kali ini Singapura telah berusaha sebagai tuanrumah. CONSAL VI berlangsung di Hotel Shangri-La, Singapura dari 30hb Mei sehingga 3hb Jun, 1983.

Kertaskerja:

Sessi Pleno

1. The library in the information age, by Dr. Cham Tao Soon.
2. Automation and networking at the National Library of Canada, by Mary Joan Dunn.
3. The Southeast Asian public and the disappearance of the barefoot librarian, by Hedwig Anuar.
4. Special library services in developing countries, by Luwarsih Pringgoadisurjo.

Sessi Serentak

5. The development of telecommunications in Singapore, by Dr. William Chang.
6. A survey of integrated library automation systems available in Asia, by Euan Barty.
7. Gearing up for the information age – the Singapore experience in computer education and training, by Dr. Leong Kuo-Sing.
8. Education of library and information personnel in the ASEAN region, by Dr. Ursula G Picache.
9. Computer teaching in library and information education, by Gwyneth Tseng & Professor Peter Havard-Williams.
10. Computer hardware, software and peopleware selection and maintenance for library applications, by Srisakdi Charmonman.
11. The experience in the operation of the MALMARC System, by Lim Chee Hong.
12. Library automation at the National University of Singapore, by Tan Chee Kiow & Jill Quah.

13. Computerization at the Vienna International Centre (VIC) Library: a description and appraisal of CDS/ISIS, by Ch'ng Kim See.
14. The AWA URICA library systems and TULIPS, (its application at the University of Tasmania Library), by Richard J. Goodram.
15. Computerising the small library: equipment and other considerations, by Dr. David Chan Fatt Chow.
16. Networking systems in Australia, by Harrison Bryan.
17. LASER: its system and services, by Peter Smith.
18. Computerised systems in the University of California (Berkeley) Library, by Peter Ananda.
19. Implementation of bibliographical standards: Philippines (country report), by Lily O. Orbase.
20. Bibliographical standards: evaluation of their implementation – Thailand, by Suwakhon Phadungath.
21. The implementation of bibliographical standards in Singapore libraries: a country report, by Chan Luck.
22. Bibliographical standards: evaluation of their implementation in Malaysia, by Norpisah Mohd. Noor.
23. Bibliographic standards of Indonesia: implementation and progress, by Dady P. Rachmananta.
24. Journal publishing in the information age, by Robert Campbell.
25. The impact of information technology on secondary publishers, by Herbert B. Landau.
26. The impact of information technology on the broadcasting media, by V.G. Krishnan.

27. Changing old habits with new technology in newspapers, by Ambrose Khaw.
28. The union list of serials in Southeast Asia, by Kullasap Gesmankit.
29. SEAPRINT: a computerised regional bibliography project, by Edward Lim Huck Tee.
30. ASINFO: a regional network for the exchange of information and experience in science and technology in Asia and the Pacific, by A Neelameghan.
31. Information technology and the AIBA regional network, by Josephine C. Sison.
32. Development in the computerisation of non-Roman scripts, by Margaret C. Fung.
33. An algorithm for printing the Thai language, by Warawudh Kruasin.
34. Towards a standardization of processing Southeast Asian non-alphabetic languages, by Giok Po Oey.
35. Educational technology and the library, by Dr. Lau Kam Cheong.
36. Educational technology: a brief survey of some Thai academic libraries, by M.L. Joy Nandhivajrin.
37. The structure of the three-corner coding method (TCCM), by Jack Kai-tung Huang.
38. Community information service in the public library with special reference to Singapore, by Cheong Kwai Liew.
39. Performance measures for public libraries, by Dr. D.E.K. Wijasuriya.
40. Library and information services to children and young adults, by Pilar R. Perez.
41. Reaching children through libraries in Malaysia, by Shahaneem Mustafa & Molinar Nijhar.
42. Library and information services to young children and young adults in Indonesia, by Soemarno Hadisewojo.
43. The present state of library and information services in rural Philippines, by Carolina L. Afan.
44. Library and information service to rural community in Indonesia, by John P. Rompas.
45. Technical information services in Singapore, by K.S. Tan.
46. Libraries, librarians and technology transfer, by Carmel Maquire.
47. Library and information needs of users in industry: Indonesia, by Zultanawar.
48. Singapore library and information needs of and services for end-users in economics, business and finance, by Francis Cheo.
49. Establishing and maintaining a computerised international labour information service in an international organisation library, by Aileen W.K. Ng.
50. ON LINE (Library information needs for educationists), by Dr. Sim Wong Kooi.
51. Library and information needs of and services to educationists with particular reference to Malaysia, by Zaiton bte Osman.
52. Library and information needs of end-users in the agro-biological sciences, by P. Sahertian-Bakhoven & Soetitah S. Soedoyo.
53. Instant Info: the National University of Singapore Library Online Information Search Services (LOIS) experience, by Sylvia Yap Swee Beng.
54. The development of databases in science and technology, with special reference to INKA – Information System Karlsruhe, by Johanna Grewen & H.P. Wahl.
55. Library and information resources and services for users in language and literature, by Yolanda Beh.
56. Library services for language users, by Ipon Purawijaya.
57. Access to law: library and information needs of researchers in law, by Myrna S. Feliciano.
58. Meeting the information needs of the legal profession in Singapore, by Sng Yok Fong.
59. Library and information needs of and services to users in the medical sciences, by Uthai Dhutiyabodhi.
60. Information services on diarrhoeal diseases in Asia with special reference to the role of ICDDR, Bangladesh, by M. Shamsul Islam Khan.
61. The Australian Medline Network and the Western Pacific, by Paul Hodgson.
62. Resources for Southeast Asian Studies: a regional perspective, by Patricia Lim Pui Huen.
63. Aspects of Southeast Asian collection development in Australia, by George Miller.
64. Response to the information needs of the agricultural sector in Malaysia, by Syed Salim Agha.
65. The Rattan Information Centre, Malaysia, by, Dr. Salleh Mohd. Nor & Kong How Kooi.
66. The British Library and other U.K. Library collections on Southeast Asia, by Patricia M. Herbert.